

Contents

|                                                                              | Page |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| Summary . . . . .                                                            | 1           |
| Introduction . . . . .                                                       | 3           |
| Background .....                                                             | 3           |
| Definitions . . . . .                                                        | 6           |
| The Nature and Primacy of Waste Reduction. . . . .                           | 6           |
| EPA's Present and Future Commitment . . . . .                                | 9           |
| Policy Issues . . . . .                                                      | 10          |
| Policy Options .. .. ., ...                                                  | 13          |
| Comparative Analysis . . . . .                                               | 16          |
| Areas of Agreement.. . . .                                                   | 16          |
| Areas of Disagreement . . . . .                                              | 20          |
| In Summary . . . . .                                                         | 30          |
| Ambiguities in the EPA Report . . . . .                                      | 32          |
| Does EPA Regard Waste Reduction as the Option of Choice? . . . . .           | 32          |
| Does EPA Require a New Congressional Mandate? . . . . .                      | 35          |
| Has EPA Made a Strong Commitment to a Major Waste ReductionEffort? ..... | 36          |
| Policy Implications . . . . .                                                | 42          |
| Are There Advantages to a Completely New Type of Legislation? .....          | 44          |
| What Could New Waste Reduction Legislation Include? . . . . .                | 45          |
| What Might Be an Effective Level and Source offending? . . . . .             | 52          |

Boxes

| Box                                                                                                                 | Page |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| A. Summary of Recommendations From EPA Report . . . . .                                                                    | 4           |
| B. Policy Excerpt From OTA Report Brief ....., . . . . .                                                                   | 5           |
| C. Waste Reduction and National Policy . . . . .                                                                           | 7           |
| D. Unused Results in EPA's Report Appendices Agree WithOTA's Findings . . . . .                                        | 17          |
| E. Recent Examples of Obstacles in the Private Sector toWaste Reduction . . . . .                                      | 24          |
| F. Burning Waste in Industrial Furnaces and Boilers Can Reduce Interestin Waste Reduction . , . . . , , . . . . .      | 28          |
| G. What Language Best Protects the Environment: Volume and Toxicity,Volume or Toxicity, or Degree of Hazard? . . . . . | 33          |

Figures

| Figure No.                                               | Page |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| 1. EPA Organization and Funding for Waste Minimization. . . . . | 31          |
| 2. End-of-Pipe Approach: Regulating the Regulations . . . . .   | 44          |

Tables

| Table No.                                                         | Page |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| I. Definitions Used in the Reports . . . . .                             | 21          |
| 2. Wastes Covered by Reports and HSWA . . . . .                          | 22          |
| 3. Funding Levels and Evaluations of EPA Waste Minimization Activities . | 39          |