

Alexandra T. Vazquez is an Assistant Professor in the Center for African American Studies and the Department of English at Princeton University. Vazquez is the author of Instrumental Migrations: The Critical Turns of Cuban Music (under contract with Duke University Press), and with Ela Troyano, a co-editor of La Yiyiyi: Impacts of La Lupe (under review with Duke UP). She has published on Graciela "the First Lady of Cuban Jazz" in women and performance: a journal of feminist theory and Ivy Queen for the forthcoming volume Reggaetón (Duke UP 2009). She is currently completing an article on Freestyle's women vocalists for a special issue of Social Text. Vazquez is also part of the triumvirate that is www.ohindustry.com.