Princeton attack humbles Lions

By Justin Feil

It was fitting that Princeton University's football team exorcised the ghosts of weeks past on the eve of Halloween.

Saturday the offense erupted for 38 points, and the defense held Columbia in check when it counted — and managed a touchdown itself — as the Tiger earned its first Ivy League win of the season, 44-15, over the Lions at Princeton Stadium before a crowd of 13,164.

"We played well today," Princeton Head Coach Steve Tosches said. "We finally had a chance to put things together."

Unlike in past games when Princeton, which improved to 3-4 overall and 1-3 in Ivy play, allowed mistakes to take it out of scoring situations, the Orange and Black rebounded from a holding call that brought back a 54-yard Tommy Crenshaw '02-to-Phil Wendler '00 pass.

The offense gathered itself, and used nine more plays to march 73 yards for its first score of the day when Crenshaw hit Chisom Opara '03 with a 32-yard strike with just under 11 minutes to play in the second quarter.

Crenshaw finished what he called his "best day yet" by

From the President ...

To his players Dick Colman h37 was a not only a Hall of Fame coach but a special person: mentor, teacher, social activist, innovator, husband, father. During his years at Princeton, Dick and his lovely wife Shep raised two wonderful children, Tim and Connie. They grew up around Princeton Football watching, hearing about and knowing decades of players from a very unique perspective.

Connie, her husband Richard, and their two boys — Jake, 11 and Woodrow, 13 — came down from Vermont last fall to help us dedicate Colman Plaza and the new Princeton Stadium. Jake and Woodrow want a return trip.

I received a wonderful letter from Connie recently and, after some coaxing, received permission to share it with all of you.

Yes ... there was a tear in my eye!

Dear Stas,

It's a sunny Saturday morning. There's a nip in the air and colors in the trees and I don't have to reach back very far to feel the excitement and butterflies of a football morning.

I can remember the cool sunshine and the procession of cars and pedestrians through town making their way to the stadium - the archetype of all stadiums with its ivy arches and its sheer scale. We joined the ranks of the thousands of eager fans scurrying past hawkers and concessionaires to find the ascending tunnel that brought us into the bright sunlight of that spectacular inner sanctum.

It's still easy to hear the roar of the fans when the Orange and Black burst onto the freshly prepared field. The traditional coin toss brought forth another roar sending us to our feet for the sprawling kickoff. It was pageantry at its best, the kind that brings out the best in people and brings them back not just week after week, but in their memories, too.

Princeton Football does live on even for those of us who merely warmed the seats. It's a jump for me to conceive its meaning for those who actually played in the game.

For that reason, it's been a real privilege to read the many memories shared in the Tiger's Lair. It's heartwarming to have the tradition of Princeton Football articulated so movingly and to remember the many special people that have been associated with it.

Best regards,

Connie Colman

P.S.: It was sweet of you to mention Dad in your July fundraising letter with respect to getting back tenfold what you give. He certainly believed and lived that way! It was an honor and a delight to see him remembered in such a manner after so many years!

P.S.S.: Please find contribution enclosed.

completing 24 of 33 passes for 304 yards and two touchdowns. It was the first 300-yard passing day for a Tiger quarterback since Chad Roghair '92 did it against Brown in 1991.

"I think the more experience I get under my belt, and the more success I have, and more confidence I have just breeds more confidence and success," said Crenshaw.

The Princeton quarterback found most of his success in the first half as the Tiger jumped out to a 24-0 halftime lead over Columbia, which dropped to 2-5 overall and 0-4 in the Ivies.

After Kyle Brandt '01 ran untouched off right tackle for a 54-yard touchdown with 8:22 to play in the half, extending the lead to 14-0, Crenshaw needed just one play on Princeton's next possession to make it 21-0. Less than three minutes after the second score, he floated a soft pass down the left sideline to H-back Marty Cheatham '01, who finished with five catches for 91 yards.

Taylor Northrop '02 finished Princeton's first-half scoring with a 39-yard field goal with 47 seconds left in the half. Even that was set up by two medium-range Crenshaw throws.

"The last couple of weeks we had some deep posts — and I think they tried to take that away," Crenshaw said. "When they took that away, it opened up the underneath passing and that's what we took advantage of."

Crenshaw also took advantage of the offensive line's best game of the season. Though he was sacked three times, Crenshaw was able to stand back and search the field for the open receiver for much of the day. In addition, Princeton came within three yards of having a pair of 100-yard rushers in the same game for the first time in 10 years.

Cameron Atkinson '03 ran 25 times for 104 yards and a touchdown, while Brandt finished with 15 carries for 97 yards and two touchdowns. For Brandt, who had been switched to defense following Princeton's second game of the season, then switched back to offense before the Harvard game, any action was welcome.

"Today I didn't know how much I was going to play," said Brandt, who added his second score on a one-yard leap with 2:08 to go in the third quarter. "But when I was in there, my goal was: 'I need to make something happen.' I needed to make a play, which I did and I was very happy about it."

Princeton got another solid performance from its defense, which allowed only 34 total first-half yards of offense to the Lions. It was a special teams touchdown that allowed Columbia to score with 11:48 remaining in the third quarter when Ryan Kiernan found Jonathan Reese on a fake punt for a 50-yard score.

The Lions cut it to 31-15 with 21 seconds to play in the quarter, but the Princeton offense scored two possessions later on a four-yard run by Atkinson with only 7:44 to play in the fourth quarter to put the game out of reach. Kevin Kongsлие '03 added a final touchdown when he returned an interception 51 yards.

"They were just flat and we were flying around," said Princeton linebacker Chuck Hastings '00, who had four sacks on the day. "We came out and anything they tried, we had an answer."

Princeton hopes to carry the momentum into next Saturday's game at Penn, which lost to Yale Saturday. But Princeton's victory was costly, as starting wide receiver Danny Brian '00 may have a torn ligament in his ankle and starting tackle Dennis Norman '01 was scheduled to have his medial cruciate ligament examined Sunday.

Nevertheless, the Tiger will travel to Philadelphia with a little more pounce in its step following a win over the Lions that saw the defense continue its outstanding play and the offense, which ran up 537 total yards Saturday, improve significantly.

"This is the first game where we really exploded offensively," Crenshaw said. "I think it was a confidence builder for us."

Higgins, Northrop get league honors

Punter/placekicker Taylor Northrop '02 was named Special Teams Player of the Week in the Ivy League for his performance against Harvard. Linebacker Michael Higgins '02 was named to the league Honor Roll.
