

Do YOU Want to Help Princeton Become More Earth-Friendly?

Join GREENING PRINCETON!

Who are we? We are a student organization working to implement more environmentally conscious practices in many aspects of the university.

What do we do? Here are some projects that you can be a part of :

Organic Food: Help Dining Services introduce organic and local foods (better for you and the environment!) into the dining halls.

Container Waste: Encourage your fellow students to reduce waste from disposable cups around campus and on the Street by promoting new reusable mugs, coming soon!

Green Purchasing: Work with departments around campus to purchase more green products, like 100% tree-free recycled paper.

Education: Share your concern for the environment with your fellow students by spreading the facts about sustainable seafood, food waste, recycling, and other important topics.

With your help, we CAN make a difference in greening Princeton!

To get involved, contact Kai M. Chan (kaichan@princeton.edu) or Joe Conley (jconley@princeton.edu).