Latin Salutatory Oration

Marguerite B. Colson

The Latin salutatory is awarded by vote of the faculty to one of the highest-ranking candidates for bachelor degrees. The special qualifications of a student as salutorian are taken into account, as well as scholastic standing.

Salutatio

*Habita in Comitii Academicis Princetoniae
In Nova Caesarea a.d. Kal. Jun.
Anno Salutis MMX
Anno Academiae CCLXIII*

Gratulationes, classis duorum milium decem—magnificentissima res Princetoniae!

Primum te saluto, Praeses Tilghman, adversaria acerrima notarum inflatarum, fraternitatum, et ebrietatis inmodicae. Deinde vos saluto, curatores, pro vestro magisterio et vos, professores, pro vestra sapientia et eis scriptis quae nos poscitis inter hebdomadas probationum semestrium. Parentes, vos etiam saluto: gnati vestri sunt morose studiosi, et ex eis titulis quos propugnaculis vestrorum carrorum adfixistis, sentio vos glorificavisse illos mores. Quondam ex parentibus iPod, ut dicitur, pro dono diei Nativitatis petivi—atqui accepi Facetias Latinas prae Manibus. Itaque tibi, Mater, et tibi, Pater, carpe donum! Et gratias vobis ago, qui hortatis estis me studere linguae quae erit utilissima, si umquam quaestum quaeram in Civitate Vaticana.

Nunc, sodales, vos saluto et admoneo vos huc venisse sapientiam non lucrum ex studiis vestris petentes. Hic Princetoniae celebramus mores qui duraverunt per saecula. Haec salutatio, quam vix viginti homines ex tota caterva intelligent, primum dicta est anno millensimo septingentesimo quadragesimo octavo. Tabulae honestatis nos terruerunt ex anno millensimo octingentesimo nonagesimo tertio. Moribus antiquis imbuti sumus, at non alligati. Quin etiam novos antiquis addimus. Exempli gratia, dubito primum illud cervisarium-amiculum anni millensimi nongentesimi decimi secundi fabricatum esse quod teneat viginti quattuor Coorsia Levia. Commemoremus quoque classem nostram sanxisse consuetudinem tam antiquam quam Princetoniam ipsam, cohabitationem hominum utriusque sexus. Classes futurae, hoc vobis donum nostrum est.

Initio tirocinii nostri, Praeses Tilghman, hoc verbum nobis dixisti, “Praeteritum non est praelusio.” Hoc die ultimo respicientes, non invenimus obstinata exempla vel necessitates, sed occasiones commutandorum institutorum quae colamus et constituendarum novarum consuetudinum quae nos in futura transvehant. Consilium tuum in quinque partes divisum jussit nos prosequi cupiditates nostras, explorare locos novos scientiae, nos ipsos moderari, adjuvare alios, et nos oblectare. Eheu! Magnum et difficile fuit invenire gaudium illis diebus ante nostras theses submittendas, cum includeremur in subterraneis cubiculis, vescentes Twizzlers, NoDoz, et Four Loko. Verum tamen iuventutem nostram oblectabamus, adeo ut miraremur quis furibundus constituisset vel disputationes quinta hora esse occipiendas, vel diem Veneris in hebdomade scholari esse includendum! Praeses Tilghman, addam sextam partem partibus quinque tuis. Vel sicut Ezra Pound addocuit: “Omnia nova facite!”—nam ille doctus poeta affirmabat vanam renovationem futuram esse sine intellectu atque aestimatione veterum. Eo ipso, socii Princetonienses, dum exitis, videtis, vincitis, et bibitis, semper fideles eis consuetudinibus sitis in quibus velut in fundamento successus vester exstruitur. Memoria tenete, autem, illas renovare et vestras facere.

Secondary School Teaching Prizes

Recognition, by Provost Christopher L. Eisgruber, of recipients of prizes for distinguished secondary school teaching in the State of New Jersey.

Roy Chambers

Westfield High School
Teacher of Art and Graphic Design

A recognized artist in his own right, Roy Chambers says his lessons have everything to do with art and, at the very same time, everything to do with an effort to connect student to student, student to teacher, subject to subject, and art to their lives. He is committed to making Westfield High School a place where people can engage difficult questions creatively and with respect for others. His students think he's magic. He reaches the artistically gifted and those who are not, and for those who seem camouflaged, he teaches them how to express themselves. For all of his students, the word that defines him is GENUINE.

Gregory B. Devine

Delbarton School
Teacher of Physics

Physics. The very word can send chills up the spine, triggered by the daunting realm of the quark, the lepton, and the Hadron collider. Gregory Devine's students at Delbarton High School trumpet his ability to demystify seemingly arcane subjects. For him the enemy is teaching to the test and learning only for a grade. The hero is the student who overcomes a difficult subject by sheer determination and hard work; who is pushed to learn by a burning desire to find the answer to the question "why?" He brings to his students that rare and pure joy of the "aha!" moment when understanding clicks. That's what makes his teaching, in a word, "Devine."

Argine Safari

Pascack Valley High School
Teacher of Music

At Pascack Valley High School, Argine Safari uses music as a vehicle to teach about different cultures, about history, and about the left and right hemispheres of the brain and how we form memories. Her choir members learn to amplify the power of each individual voice by working as part of a whole, and an individual's responsibility for the success of the group. Through music she engages students who might otherwise go unheard. Students who have difficulty putting thoughts into words credit her with helping them find their voice. They sing her praises, for it is she who has given them the key, major and minor, to the richness of their own potential.

Hans Robert Toft

Cape May County Technical High School
Teacher of Natural Sciences

His colleagues say that Hans Toft has educational charisma. He credits Mother Nature as his greatest teacher. His primary classroom is the outdoors, the marsh by Cape May County Technical High School. In almost four decades of teaching, he has given his students the gift of wonder—wonder at the power of nature and wonder at their own abilities. A red-tail hawk serves as his lure to capture the interest of his students, and with a hawk-keen eye he recognizes their hidden strengths, nourishes them by giving them responsibility, then encourages them to soar on the upward drafts of realized potential.

The President's Awards for Distinguished Teaching

Recognition, by Dean of the Faculty David P. Dobkin, of recipients of awards for sustained records of excellence in undergraduate- and graduate-level teaching by Princeton University faculty members.

Erhan Çinlar

Norman Sollenberger Professor in Engineering;
Professor of Operations Research and Financial Engineering

For him, first-class research and first-class teaching are inseparable. He promises his students that his probability course will “not only make you more intelligent; it will make you feel more intelligent.” Judging by the popularity of this legendary course, the probability that his promise will be fulfilled is consistently very high. He urges students to use mental gymnastics and mathematical rigor to solve problems, but he does not discredit intuition. We can use either mathematical calculations of teaching scores or intuitive analyses of student evaluations to prove, without doubt, that he deserves this award.

Arcadio Díaz-Quñones

Emory L. Ford Professor of Spanish; Professor of Spanish and Portuguese Languages and Cultures

His essays on Latin American poetry and literature are classics in the modern literary canon; his teaching is described as “mesmeric.” He takes his students on a journey to the complex and rich worlds of Latin American fiction and poetry, and when they return they’ve been transformed forever. For him, teaching borders on a sacred obligation. For his students, that commitment to teaching makes them part of a vast web of enthusiastic and grateful disciples who seek to read with his critical eye, act with his empathic heart, and rhythm their actions to match his characteristic grace.

P. Adams Sitney

Professor of Visual Arts in the Lewis Center for the Arts

From student evaluations we have cut and spliced a portrayal of this foremost authority on the American avant-garde cinema. He is the very model of a modern humanist. He looks the part of a professor, but most of all he acts the part of a professor: he loves learning, teaching, and lively discussion and is exceptional at all three. He may cultivate a somewhat curmudgeonly attitude, but at bottom he is an affectionate and generous mentor. His lectures are “amazing,” “incandescent,” deserve “three thumbs up.” To quote one student, “He may seem a bit crazy, but you would be crazy not to give him this award.”

Jeffrey L. Stout

Professor of Religion

In his own words, he teaches a “highly demanding form of self-reliance.” But he is famous for the individual help and attention he gives students. Whether in conversations in the Department of Religion’s lounge or pep talks in the soccer team’s locker room, he works tirelessly to foster a vibrant and supportive intellectual community. His students remind us that he defines teaching as awakening sleepers. To make their point they recall how he caps off his lecture on Protestant Christian ethics with a rendition of Amazing Grace and his likening the search for religion to Piglet and Winnie the Pooh’s quest for the Woozle. Sleepers, awake to this excellent teacher!

Honorary Degrees

Presentation to the president of the candidates for honorary degrees by the University Orator and Trustee, Charles DeW. Gibson, Class of 1965. Conferral of the degrees by the president.

Drew Gilpin Faust

Doctor of Laws

Drew Gilpin Faust has served as president of Harvard University since 2007. A historian of the Civil War and the American South who grew up in rural Virginia, Faust is also the Lincoln Professor of History at Harvard. Previously, she was the founding dean of the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study for six years. Before Radcliffe, Faust was the Annenberg Professor of History and director of the Women's Studies Program at the University of Pennsylvania, where she served on the faculty for 25 years. Faust is the author of six books, including This Republic of Suffering: Death and the American Civil War, which was nominated for a National Book Award in 2008, and Mothers of Invention: Women of the Slaveholding South in the American Civil War, which won the Francis Parkman Prize for the best book in American history in 1997. She was elected to the American Philosophical Society in 2004, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 1994, and the Society of American Historians in 1993. In selecting Faust as its 28th president, Harvard appointed a leader without a Harvard degree for the first time since it appointed its third president in 1654.

Bryn Mawr College (B.A., 1968); University of Pennsylvania (Ph.D., 1975)

What brings the president of our sister institution on the Charles to this house of Orange/Nassau? Some Faustian pact with the devil? No! She is here to receive our praise as an award-winning historian of the Civil War and the antebellum South, teacher, and leader of our nation's oldest center of higher learning. How extraordinary is this woman? In selecting her, Harvard chose a president without a Harvard degree—for the first time since 1654. A visionary leader, she champions excellence and opportunity, and at a time when the very purposes of a university are questioned, she brings her powerful intellect, insight, and integrity to bear on the challenges ahead. Daughter of a Princetonian, she now becomes a daughter of Princeton. In accordance with Princeton's motto, under God's power may she flourish.

Ruth Bader Ginsburg

Doctor of Laws

U.S. Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., has had a trailblazing career in the law and is especially known for advancing women's rights. Ginsburg was nominated to the Supreme Court by President Bill Clinton in 1993, and is the second woman to serve on the court. Prior to her appointment, she was a judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit for 13 years. In 1971 she was instrumental in launching the Women's Rights Project of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) and served as general counsel for the ACLU as well as on its national board of directors. While a professor at Rutgers University Law School from 1963 to 1972, she battled for maternity leave rights for schoolteachers in New Jersey. In 1972 she became the first woman hired with tenure at Columbia University's law school.

Cornell University (A.B., 1954); Columbia University School of Law (LL.B., 1959)

Denied deserved recognition by a discriminatory profession when she graduated at the top of her law school class, she has dedicated her life to vindicating the Constitution's promise of equality under law as a distinguished law professor, a respected Supreme Court litigator, and a trailblazing advocate for women's rights. Through brilliant strategy and rigorous argument, she persuaded the Supreme Court to recognize a constitutional right to be free from sex discrimination. Her triumphs earned her a seat on the bench and eventually on this nation's highest court, where her jurisprudence is a beacon of freedom that illuminates the continuing power of America's constitutional ideals.

Olufunmilayo Falusi Olopade

Doctor of Science

Olufunmilayo Olopade, a clinician and researcher, has dedicated her career to the study of breast cancer and cancer risk assessment. At the University of Chicago, she is the Walter L. Palmer Distinguished Service Professor in Medicine and Human Genetics, director of the Center for Clinical Cancer Genetics, and director of the hematology and oncology fellowship program. She also leads the University of Chicago Medical Center's Cancer Risk Clinic. Olopade's research has revealed that an aggressive variation of breast cancer occurs more frequently and at an earlier age in women of African ancestry than in Caucasian women, and she has gained insights in understanding the disease and its resistance to certain drugs. In her clinical work, she also is an expert on cancer risk and prevention, and on individualized treatment based on risk factors and quality of life. She is working with doctors in her native Nigeria, and with government officials and drug companies across Africa, to improve education and treatment.

University of Ibadan (M.B.B.S., 1980)

Witness to hundreds of parishioners who came to her minister father daily for help in her native Nigeria, she decided to become a doctor who would minister especially to those with breast cancer. Regarding her patients as teachers, she involves their families in the quest for life-saving answers. Using molecular findings and innovative clinical practices, she has discovered lethal links between genetics and risk factors. Her battle to improve early detection and treatment extends from America to Africa, from the classroom to the laboratory, focused always on the needs of the individual—on giving them the gift of time, and, in time, finding a cure.

Albie Sachs

Doctor of Laws

A chief architect of South Africa's post-apartheid constitution, Albie Sachs is known for his lifelong work in defending people against oppression. After South Africa's first democratic election in 1994, he was appointed by President Nelson Mandela to serve as a judge on the country's newly established constitutional court, from which he retired in 2009. Working as a lawyer during apartheid, Sachs defended people charged under racist statutes and repressive security laws, many of whom faced the death sentence. Sachs himself was seized by police and placed in solitary confinement. In 1966 he went into exile and worked for 11 years studying and teaching law in England and then for another 11 years working as a law professor and legal researcher in Mozambique. It was in Mozambique in 1988 that he lost an arm and sight in one eye to a bomb placed in his car by South African security agents. In the early 1990s Sachs returned to his home country and participated in negotiations leading to South Africa becoming a constitutional democracy. A decade later, he helped write a new South African law allowing for same-sex marriage. Sachs is the author of five books that describe his life experiences and examine larger issues of social justice, including Soft Vengeance of a Freedom Fighter.

University of Cape Town (LL.B, 1956); University of Sussex (Ph.D., 1971)

Broken in body but never in spirit, he endured 30 years of persecution, violence, and exile before leading South Africa in the creation of a new constitutional framework for securing freedom and justice. Forged in a crucible of unspeakable pain, his lifelong commitment to social justice and equality before the law springs from an unshakeable faith in humanity that patiently embraces the peaceful competition of dissenting voices so that freedom and enlightenment may prevail over oppression and ignorance. Today the courageous writings and rulings of this visionary jurist continue to heal and illuminate a once divided nation. His pivotal role has helped bring his country into the community of responsible nations, with a constitution that recognizes the dignity of all of its citizens.

Edward Curtis Taylor

Doctor of Science

Edward Taylor is the A. Barton Hepburn Professor of Organic Chemistry, Emeritus, at Princeton University. Taylor joined the Princeton faculty in 1954 and transferred to emeritus status in 1997. Taylor has written more than 450 scientific papers, has served as editor of longstanding science journals, and holds 52 U.S. patents. He is the inventor of the anti-cancer drug, Alimta, which he developed in collaboration with Eli Lilly and Co. scientists to treat malignant pleural mesothelioma, a lung cancer often caused by exposure to asbestos. Approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration in 2004, the drug has since received additional approvals for treatment of other tumors. Taylor has received numerous honors and awards. He has been inducted into the New Jersey Inventors Hall of Fame and chosen to receive the 2010 Alfred Burger Award in Medicinal Chemistry from the American Chemical Society (ACS). Taylor's previous honors include the ACS's Heroes of Chemistry Award, the International Society of Heterocyclic Chemistry Senior Award in Heterocyclic Chemistry, and the Research and Development Council of New Jersey's Alva Edison Patent Award for Invention.

Cornell University (B.A., 1946; Ph.D., 1949)

Fascination with the iridescent wing of the butterfly led him on a journey that resulted in the development of molecules that improve the lives of thousands. In the chaotic world of drug design he brings rationality, designing selective warriors against cancerous tumors that avoid indiscriminate destruction of healthy tissue. As a charismatic teacher, influential adviser, accomplished researcher, and respected consultant, he has demonstrated not only a passion for discovery, but a determination to translate discovery into treatment. His four-plus decades at Princeton leave a lasting legacy for his students and colleagues, his University, and all throughout the world who benefit from the fruits of his curiosity.

A Commentary on Commencement

Remarks by the President

Shirley M. Tilghman

Benediction

Associate Dean of Religious Life and of the Chapel

Paul B. Raushenbush

Alma Mater

Old Nassau

Tune ev'ry heart and ev'ry voice,
Bid ev'ry care withdraw;
Let all with one accord rejoice,
In praise of Old Nassau.

In praise of Old Nassau, we sing,
Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!
Our hearts will give while we shall live,
Three cheers for Old Nassau.

the staging area.*

AVETE ATQVE VALETE

Princeton traces its founding to a royal charter granted on October 22, 1746, by King George the Second of England. The first Commencement Exercises were held in 1748, in Newark, then home of the College of New Jersey, as Princeton was originally called. Six students were graduated at the first Commencement; today there are approximately 1,200 seniors receiving undergraduate degrees.

One of Princeton's first graduate students was James Madison 1771, later the fourth president of the United States. He remained at the college after graduation to continue his studies with President John Witherspoon, who was the only college president as well as the only clergyman to sign the Declaration of Independence. Systematic graduate instruction began in the 1870s, and the Graduate School, as it is known today, was formally organized in 1901. More than 500 recipients of advanced degrees will be recognized at Commencement today.

Princeton's Commencements have been held in late spring only since 1844. Before then the ceremony took place in the fall because the College was in session all summer long. Since the College moved to Princeton in 1756, Commencement has been held in a variety of locations on or near campus, including Alexander Hall, the First Presbyterian Church, and Nassau Hall, but since 1922 the front lawn of Nassau Hall (known as front campus) has been the site of Commencement, weather permitting.

The Commencement Setting

Guests at a Commencement held on front campus visit historic ground. The word "campus" defined to mean the grounds of a college was first used at Princeton University. "Front campus" is used to refer to the lawn in front of Nassau Hall, Princeton's oldest building and a registered national historic landmark. The largest academic structure in the Colonies, Nassau Hall provided, for nearly one-half century after its completion in 1756, all the facilities of the College—classrooms, bedrooms, refectory, library, and prayer hall.

Nassau Hall was the scene of an unsuccessful stand of the British in the crucial Battle of Princeton in 1777. In the spring of 1779, when the farm called Prospect just behind Nassau Hall was owned by a retired Indian agent, its campus border (now McCosh Walk) was home to an encampment of Delaware sachem. These Native American leaders, here at the behest of the Continental Congress, presented three young Delaware Indians for education in Nassau Hall at Congress's expense—making the education of American Indians at Princeton the first instance of U.S. federal aid to education.

Nassau Hall was once the Capitol of the country: The Continental Congress met in its library room for four months in 1783. In its prayer hall, Washington received the thanks of Congress for his conduct of the war.

To the north—behind the spectator facing Nassau Hall—is FitzRandolph Gate, named in honor of Nathaniel and Rebecca FitzRandolph, who donated the land on which Nassau Hall was built.

To the west is the John Maclean House, built as a home for the president when Nassau Hall was constructed in 1756. It is named for Princeton's 10th president, who lived there between 1854 and 1868. Ten of Princeton's first 11 presidents, until 1879, lived in the house. It was the residence of deans of the faculty between 1883 and 1967 and became the headquarters of the Alumni Council in 1968. The sycamore trees in the front yard are known as "the Stamp Act Trees" because they were planted in 1765, the year the Stamp Act was repealed.

Behind Maclean House is Stanhope Hall, the University's third-oldest building, erected in 1803. Its architect was Benjamin Latrobe, who also designed the Capitol in Washington and supervised the reconstruction of Nassau Hall after a disastrous fire in 1802. Recently renovated, Stanhope Hall is now home of the Center for African American Studies.

To the east is the Joseph Henry House, the home of the University's Society of Fellows in the Liberal Arts and the Council of the Humanities. It was built in 1837 for and according to the design of Joseph Henry, professor of natural philosophy and a pioneer experimenter in electromagnetism. Originally built to the south of Stanhope Hall, the house was relocated twice before being moved to its present location in 1946 to make way for Firestone Library. Professor Henry sent messages over a wire from his campus laboratory to his home several years before Morse perfected the telegraph for commercial use. He later became the first secretary of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

Flanking the front steps of Nassau Hall are two bronze tigers that were given to the University in 1911 by the Class of 1879, Woodrow Wilson's class. The tiger has been a symbol of Princeton since the latter part of the 19th century.

On the Commencement platform, front and center, is a replica of the University's seal, which is the corporate signature of the Trustees (it is also reproduced on the cover of this program). Today's ceremony is a continuation of a regular Board meeting that was adjourned yesterday "to reconvene on front campus," to permit the Trustees to confirm undergraduate, advanced, and honorary degrees at this public ceremony.

The current seal was adopted in 1896 when, at the Sesquicentennial of its founding, the College of New Jersey became Princeton University. The Trustees' minutes of February 13, 1896, describe the seal as follows: "... a shield resting upon a circle. In the upper part of the shield an open Bible with Latin characters VET NOV TESTAMENTUM signifies the Old and New Testaments.... In the lower part a chevron, denoting the rafters of a building. In the spaces between the sides of the shield and the circle the motto DEI SUB NUMINE VIGET (Under God's power she flourishes). On the outside of the circle SIGILLUM UNIVERSITATIS PRINCETONIENSIS (the seal of Princeton University)."

The front campus is of particular importance to alumni of the University. It is where students become alumni at Commencement and where alumni assemble for the annual P-rade at Reunions just prior to Commencement. During a special Charter Day convocation to celebrate the University's 250th anniversary a plaque was placed in the center of front campus, where the crosswalks meet, to recognize the many and diverse contributions of alumni. The plaque's inscription reads, "In the Nation's Service, In the Service of All Nations. On the occasion of its 250th Anniversary Princeton University here records its gratitude to its alumni for their devotion to the University and its mission of education, scholarship, and service. October 22, 1996."

The Academic Procession

The academic procession is led by the chief marshal, a member of the faculty appointed to this position by the president. The forming of the procession, the seating of Commencement participants, and other aspects of Commencement Exercises are managed by the faculty marshals and the assistant marshals. Faculty marshals are identified by their unique orange gowns and black 16th-century caps, as is the mace-bearer, who carries the ceremonial mace in the academic procession. Assistant marshals, who are members of various University staffs, wear academic gowns and distinctive orange-and-black Da Vinci caps; student ushers wear academic gowns with orange piping and no hoods.

Advanced degree candidates, receiving masters' or doctoral degrees, come first in the procession. They received their academic hoods at a Graduate School ceremony yesterday. Seniors come next, preceded by gonfalons, decorative banners representing the "coat of arms" for each of Princeton's six residential colleges.

Since 1982, residential colleges have been the center of residential life for freshmen and sophomores. In fall 2007, with the opening of Whitman College, the University inaugurated an expanded residential college system that includes three four-year colleges and pairs them with three two-year colleges. Juniors and seniors may live in the residential colleges and even upperclass students who do not live in the colleges remain associated with them. Each college has a faculty master, dean, director of studies and director of student life, as well as residential college advisers, who are upperclass students, and resident graduate students. Academic advising for freshmen and sophomores is centered at the colleges, and juniors and seniors also are encouraged to confer with their college advisers for non-departmental advising throughout their undergraduate careers. Following Commencement Exercises today, seniors will receive their diplomas in their residential college (see Diploma Distribution Events below).

Following degree candidates are members of the platform party including members of the faculty and senior administration, trustees and special award winners, heads of neighboring institutions of higher learning, and mayors of Princeton Borough and Township. At the end of the procession are the chair of the Trustee Executive Committee and the president of the University, led by the faculty mace-bearer. The mace was presented to the University by the citizens of Princeton in 1956, on the occasion of the 200th anniversary of the opening of Nassau Hall. It symbolizes the authority of the president of the University as well as the close relationship that has existed between the University and the community ever since the College was first invited to move to Princeton in 1752. The mace's silver headpiece is dominated by the eagle of freedom surmounting the orb of power—a traditional American pattern. Directly below is the seal of the University, encircled by ivy. The ebony staff is fluted to symbolize the fasces of authority. A half-staff circlet of silver is decorated with the seals of the United States and the State of New Jersey, and also of Great Britain, under whose authority the first charter was granted in 1746.

The president of the University wears a special gown, symbolic of that office and of the institutional continuity it represents. The gown is black, trimmed with gold, and faced with the orange of Princeton and of the House of Nassau. The 19 bands of gold lacing on the sleeves of the gown represent the 19 presidents who have guided Princeton since its founding. In order of succession they are Jonathan Dickinson; Aaron Burr Sr.; Jonathan Edwards; Samuel Davies; Samuel Finley; John Witherspoon; Samuel Stanhope Smith; Ashbel Green; James Carnahan; John Maclean; James McCosh; Francis Landey Patton; Woodrow Wilson; John Grier Hibben; Harold Willis Dodds; Robert Francis Goheen; William Gordon Bowen; Harold Tafler Shapiro, and Shirley M. Tilghman.

Academic Dress and Custom

Three major levels of academic achievement are represented by different types of gowns. Successful completion of requirements for the bachelor's degree is symbolized by the bachelor's gown, made of black material, with long, pointed sleeves. The gown is generally worn closed. Like the bachelor's gown, the master's gown is black without trim and is identified by the shape of the oblong sleeve, square at the end and sealed, so that the upper part of the arm comes through a slit in the sleeve. The doctor's gown and the master's gown may be worn open or closed.

Although some universities prescribe a solid color such as red, crimson, or green for their doctoral gowns, in the United States most are black. In some cases the gown's trim matches the edging of the hood, thus indicating the profession or field of major interest. The doctoral gown has bell-shaped sleeves as a further distinguishing mark.

Because members of the Princeton University faculty completed their graduate work at many different educational institutions in this country and abroad, there will be a variety of raiment in today's procession. Some degree holders wear no hood because their academic robe itself symbolizes the degree awarded (witness the scarlet gown of Oxford).

The length and shape of the academic hood and the width of its velvet edging help to identify the level of the degree that the wearer has earned. Sometimes velvet edging is used to indicate the field or discipline in which the degree was granted. Some examples of colors assigned to different disciplines are: dark blue, philosophy; light blue, education; peacock blue, public affairs; brown, fine arts or architecture; copper, economics; green, medicine; orange, engineering; pink, music; purple, law; scarlet, divinity or theology; white, arts, humanities, or letters; golden yellow, science or science in engineering.

The lining of the academic hood provides added color and gives further meaning to most academic costumes. The black shell of the hood, varying in size for each of the three kinds of degrees, is lined with the official color (or colors) of the college or university conferring the degree. More than one color is often shown by the use of the chevron or by an equal division of school colors.

Caps, generally mortarboards with tassels, have their own significance. Some foreign degree holders wear special hats, distinctive to their degree and institution. Master's and bachelor's tassels are black, while the doctor's tassel may be black or gold. The doctoral cap may be made of velvet.

The Use of Latin

In 1748 the exercises were conducted entirely in Latin. Besides the address by the salutatorian "performed in good Latin from his Memory in a handsome oratorical Manner," there were also "publick Disputations in Latin" by all six candidates for the bachelor's degree on six separate questions in philosophy and theology, and "an elegant Oration in the Latin Tongue, delivered memoriter," by Aaron Burr Sr., the second president of the College. Today, Latin is still used by the president in the conferring of degrees and by the salutatorian.

Degrees are conferred under the authority of the president and the Trustees, as established in the charter. In token thereof, the president and Trustees wear caps when conferring degrees. Each time a dean or the University orator puts on a cap and goes to the lectern to present candidates for degrees, the Trustees also put on their caps. The president makes appropriate remarks and tips her cap to signify the formal conferral of the degree.

The Latin used by the president in the conferring of degrees is simple and straightforward: Auctoritate mihi a curatoribus Vniuersitatis Princetoniensis commissa, vos ad gradum primum in artibus et cum honoribus, ut indicatum est, admitto. "By the authority vested in me by the Trustees of Princeton University, I admit you to the degree of bachelor of arts, with honors as indicated." The same formula is used for all the other degrees with appropriate amendments.

The Latin Salutatory and the Valedictory

The Latin salutatory is the oldest Commencement honor, dating to the first Commencement in 1748. Some of the most distinguished members of the Princeton faculty were former salutatorians, including Henry Burchard Fine, Henry van Dyke, Allan Marquand, William Berryman Scott, Henry Norris Russell, and President Emeritus Robert Francis Goheen.

The valedictory was first awarded as a graduation honor in 1760. Probably the greatest moment ever experienced by a Princeton valedictorian was the one enjoyed by Ashbel Green in 1783. The Continental Congress held some of its meetings that year in the library room of Nassau Hall. It adjourned its sessions to attend Commencement. Green concluded his valedictory with an address of some length to George Washington, who was present. "The next day," Green later recorded, "General Washington met me in the entry of the College as he was going to a committee-room of Congress, took me by the hand, walked with me a short time, flattered me a little, and desired me to present his best respects to my classmates, and his best wishes for their success in life. There has never been such an audience at a Commencement before and perhaps there never will be again." Later, in 1812, Ashbel Green became Princeton's eighth president.

Academic Honors

Membership in Phi Beta Kappa is based on general academic performance throughout the college course and through election by the society. Membership in Sigma Xi is accorded in science and engineering. Undergraduates who show promise in scientific and engineering research are elected to associate membership. The national engineering society, Tau Beta Pi, has a chapter at Princeton to which certain candidates for the B.S.E. degree are admitted in recognition of superior scholarship.

The first honorary degree given by Princeton was master of arts honoris causa, conferred at the first Commencement upon Jonathan Belcher, governor of the Province of New Jersey and promoter and benefactor of the College, who secured its second charter. The Trustees sought to honor him further in 1756 by proposing to name the College's first building for him. He declined and suggested instead that it be named in honor of William III, "a branch of the illustrious House of Nassau."

Today candidates for honorary degrees are selected by a committee made up of Trustees and members of the University community. The criteria used in the committee's deliberations include genuine achievement and distinction in an activity consonant with the mission of the University; the advancement of learning in the arts, sciences, and technology, and for the public welfare; distinguished contribution in elective, appointive, or career service notable for demonstrated qualities of intellect as well as character. Candidates must be approved by a vote of four-fifths of the Board of Trustees present and voting.

Music for Commencement

Members of the Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia, conducted by Michael Pratt, conductor of the University Orchestra and director of the Program in Musical Performance, provide the music for today's Commencement. Selections for the pre-Commencement concert include Morton Gould's American "Salute," Howard Hanson's "Chorale" and "Alleluia," and Gustav Holst's own arrangement of "Jupiter" from The Planets.

During the procession, you will hear classics from the British military band repertory: Holst's "Suites 1 and 2 for Military Band," Ralph Vaughan Williams' "Folk Song Suite," and William Walton's "Crown Imperial March," the last composed for the coronation of King George VI. The recessional music includes Donald Hunsberger's arrangement of Dmitri Shostakovich's "Festive Overture," and concludes with marches by John Philip Sousa.

At the close of today's program, "Old Nassau" will be led by members of the senior class, William Hepfinger III and Halcyon Person.

President of the University Shirley M. Tilghman

Shirley M. Tilghman was elected Princeton University's 19th president on May 5, 2001, and assumed office on June 15, 2001. An exceptional teacher and a world-renowned scholar and leader in the field of molecular biology, she served on the Princeton faculty for 15 years before being named president.

Tilghman, a native of Canada, received her Honors B.Sc. in chemistry from Queen's University in Kingston, Ontario, in 1968. After two years of secondary school teaching in Sierra Leone, West Africa, she obtained her Ph.D. in biochemistry from Temple University in Philadelphia.

During postdoctoral studies at the National Institutes of Health, she made a number of groundbreaking discoveries while participating in cloning the first mammalian gene, and then continued to make scientific breakthroughs as an independent investigator at the Institute for Cancer Research in Philadelphia.

Tilghman came to Princeton in 1986 as the Howard A. Prior Professor of the Life Sciences. Two years later, she also joined the Howard Hughes Medical Institute as an investigator. In 1998, she took on additional responsibilities as the founding director of Princeton's multidisciplinary Lewis-Sigler Institute for Integrative Genomics.

A member of the National Research Council's committee that set the blueprint for the U.S. effort in the Human Genome Project, Tilghman also was one of the founding members of the National Advisory Council of the Human Genome Project for the National Institutes of Health.

She is renowned for her pioneering research in mammalian developmental genetics, for her national leadership on behalf of women in science, and for promoting efforts to make the early careers of young scientists as meaningful and productive as possible.

From 1993 through 2000, Tilghman chaired Princeton's Council on Science and Technology, which encourages the teaching of science and technology to students outside the sciences, and in 1996 she received Princeton's President's Award for Distinguished Teaching. She initiated the Princeton Postdoctoral Teaching Fellowship, a program across all the science and engineering disciplines that brings postdoctoral students to Princeton each year to gain experience in both research and teaching.

In 2002, Tilghman was one of five winners of the L'Oréal-UNESCO Award for Women in Science. In the following year, she received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Society for Developmental Biology, and in 2007, she was awarded the Genetics Society of America Medal for outstanding contributions to her field.

Tilghman is a member of the American Philosophical Society, the National Academy of Sciences, the Institute of Medicine, and the Royal Society of London. She serves as a trustee of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the King Abdullah University of Science and Technology, and as a director of Google Inc.

Diploma Distribution Events

Each of the residential colleges hosts a reception following Commencement for seniors and their guests, and diplomas will be distributed at these events. Seniors should go to the college to which they are currently assigned to receive their diplomas. Diplomas will be available immediately after Commencement until 2:30 p.m. in the residential colleges. Colleges are within walking distance of Nassau Hall, and shuttles are available from Alexander Hall and Dillon Gym following Commencement.

Diplomas not picked up at the residential college receptions will be available in the Office of the Registrar in 101 West College from 3 to 5 p.m. on Commencement day and from 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. on the day following Commencement.

Shuttles to the receptions leave from Alexander Hall after graduation. Locations of the receptions in the colleges follow.

Butler College: Butler Green on Elm Drive (or Butler basement lounge and dining room in case of rain). The Central Line shuttle along Elm Drive stops at the Butler College event.

Forbes College: Forbes College living room and terrace. The “Forbes Express” shuttle goes directly to Forbes College; the shuttle will make return trips stopping at the West Garage after 1:30 p.m. until 6:00 p.m.

Mathey College: the walkway between Hamilton and Joline Halls; Mathey College dining room and lounge. Mathey College is adjacent to the Commencement location; use the walkway marked between Hamilton and Joline Halls.

Rockefeller College: Holder Cloister and Rockefeller College lounge and dining room. Rockefeller College is adjacent to the Commencement location; use the entrance to Holder Courtyard opposite the Nassau Presbyterian Church.

Whitman College: Whitman College dining room. The Central Line shuttle along Elm Drive stops at Whitman College.

Wilson College: Dodge Osborn Hall breezeway. The Central Line travels along Elm Drive. Exit at Whitman College and turn east to walk along Goheen Walk. Wilson College is on the left. Enter the main lobby and come up the stairs and exit right into the Dodge Osborn Courtyard. Look for signs for diploma distribution.

Graduate degree recipients receive their diplomas on Cannon Green.

In case of inclement weather

If Commencement on front campus is interrupted by heavy rain or thunder and lightning, the ceremony will be ended promptly. The president will award undergraduate and advanced degrees, should that part of the program not have been reached, and guests and graduates will be dismissed. Diplomas may be picked up as described under “Diploma Distribution Events.” The platform party, and guests of faculty, of teacher award winners, and of honorary degree recipients will retire to the Faculty Room in Nassau Hall where these awards and certificates will be presented.

Please turn off cell phones and electronic paging devices during the ceremony. Photographs of the ceremony taken by University photographers will be available at www.princeton.edu/pr/gradpics/2010.

Restrooms are located in Chancellor Green, at the corner of East Pyne opposite Whig Hall, in Alexander Hall (on the west side and in the basement), in Clio Hall (use rear entrance), and in West College.
