Program Choice

Students should state a preference for working in particular areas of research. However, we cannot guarantee that specific preferences will be met. For a listing of research areas, we encourage you to visit the Research Opportunities section of the Laboratory Learning Program Website [http://www.princeton.edu/research/students/research-opportunities/current-openings/]. Please be advised that decisions regarding placement in laboratories is exclusively made through the Laboratory Learning Program at the Dean for Research Office, so students should not secure their own lab arrangements. Doing so could jeopardize consideration for acceptance into the LLP.

Please make up to two choices.

Your application will go into the pool with all other applicants with the same selection, and be reviewed by the selection committee.
