

Calendar

NOVEMBER 2008

Women's Center

Wednesday–Thursday, November 5–6

Massages at the Women's Center— Cirque de Santé

10 am – 6 pm, Frist 243

As part of the annual FluFest and Cirque de Santé, massages will be offered in the Women's Center. Stop by to sign up for a free 15-minute massage. Flu immunization as well as health and fitness screenings, entertainment, and much more will take place at various sites in Frist Campus Center. Sponsored by University Health Services.

Friday, November 7, 14, 21

Mindfulness Meditation

Noon – 1 pm

Women's Center Resource Room, Frist 242

In these sessions you will reduce stress; develop meditative focus and concentration; tap into an inner resource of insight, rejuvenation, and compassion; reveal and dismantle unskillful patterns of thought and behavior; deepen your self-awareness and self-acceptance; feel inspired to live your life more authentically and truthfully; and be more effective and at ease in your interactions with others. All Princeton University students, faculty, and staff are welcome to participate at no cost—just walk in and have a seat. We start promptly at noon. Cosponsored with the Frist Campus Center.

Sunday, November 16

Queering the Color Line Family Dinner

6 pm, Women's Center, Frist 243

This is a welcoming and supportive space for LGBT students, staff, and faculty of color to meet and hang out. We meet on the third Sunday of each month. Drop in for dinner and conversation. Cosponsored with the Fields Center, Frist Campus Center, and LGBT Center.

Wednesday, November 19

Indigenous Peoples: A Global Historical Overview for the 21st Century

Time and place TBA

In celebration of Native American Heritage Month, Tanya Gonnella-Frichner, North American regional representative to the United Nations Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues, and founder and president of the American Indian Law Alliance, will discuss the significance of the U.N. Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, which was adopted by the General Assembly last year. Gonnella-Frichner will discuss ways to secure and implement indigenous rights internationally, as well as the possible role of non-Natives as advocates for these rights. Sponsored by the Fields Center.

Thursday, November 20

Post-Election: What's Next for Women and the Media

11:45 am – 2 pm, University Club,
1 West 45th Street, New York City

We are sponsoring a field trip for undergraduate women to this panel hosted by the Wellesley Centers for Women. Newswomen from major media outlets will discuss ways women have been portrayed in the media; what has changed as a result of the coverage of women's political participation; whether the media can be a positive tool for women in politics; and how we can inspire measured coverage of women in politics in general. Speakers include Diane Sawyer, ABC News; Michelle Caruso-Cabrera, CNBC Television; and Lynn Sherr, ABC News. For more information and to reserve your seat, contact us at jwhitehe@princeton.edu or 609-258-5565.

Thursday, November 20

National Transgender Day of Remembrance Service

7:30 pm – University Chapel

We will gather to remember and honor those who have been killed as a result of anti-transgender hatred and violence. Sponsored by Garden State Equality, Gender Rights Advocacy Association of New Jersey (GRAANJ), LGBT Center, and Office of Religious Life.

Frist Campus Center, Room 243

Phone: 609-258-5565 • Fax: 609-258-2142

e-mail: womenctr@princeton.edu