1a. Come up with a pair of synonyms: _______________, ________________

1b. Do their uses completely overlap? Do a Google search on both words and see if they are always interchangeable. Provide illustrative example sentences (5) below and discuss any differences in meaning or distribution that you find:

2. What does salad-salad mean in “I’d just like a salad-salad.”? Boyfriend-boyfriend (“Is he your boyfriend-boyfriend?”)? More generally, what does sense of X does “X-X” pick out?

3. Choose a three letter word? What does it mean (draw a diagram if relevant)
4. Does the Rosch and Mervis (1975) criteria for typicality, as discussed in Murphy’s Chapter 2, predict that cucumbers should be poor members of the category FRUIT? How?

4. Consider the following idioms. For each one, try to state the general metaphor that it is based on as generally as possible and provide other example sentences that make use of the same general metaphor, underlining the words or phrases that exemplify the metaphor. An example is provided:

example: I’m feeling up today.
General Metaphor: Happy As Up

Other expressions instantiating the same metaphor: The letter really lifted my spirits. I’m feeling down in the dumps. She’s high on life. She fell into a depression.

a. I couldn’t grasp that idea.
General Metaphor:

Other expressions instantiating the same metaphor:

b. She had guilt written all over her.
General Metaphor:

Other expressions that instantiate the same metaphor: