

Art History

Buddhist Studies

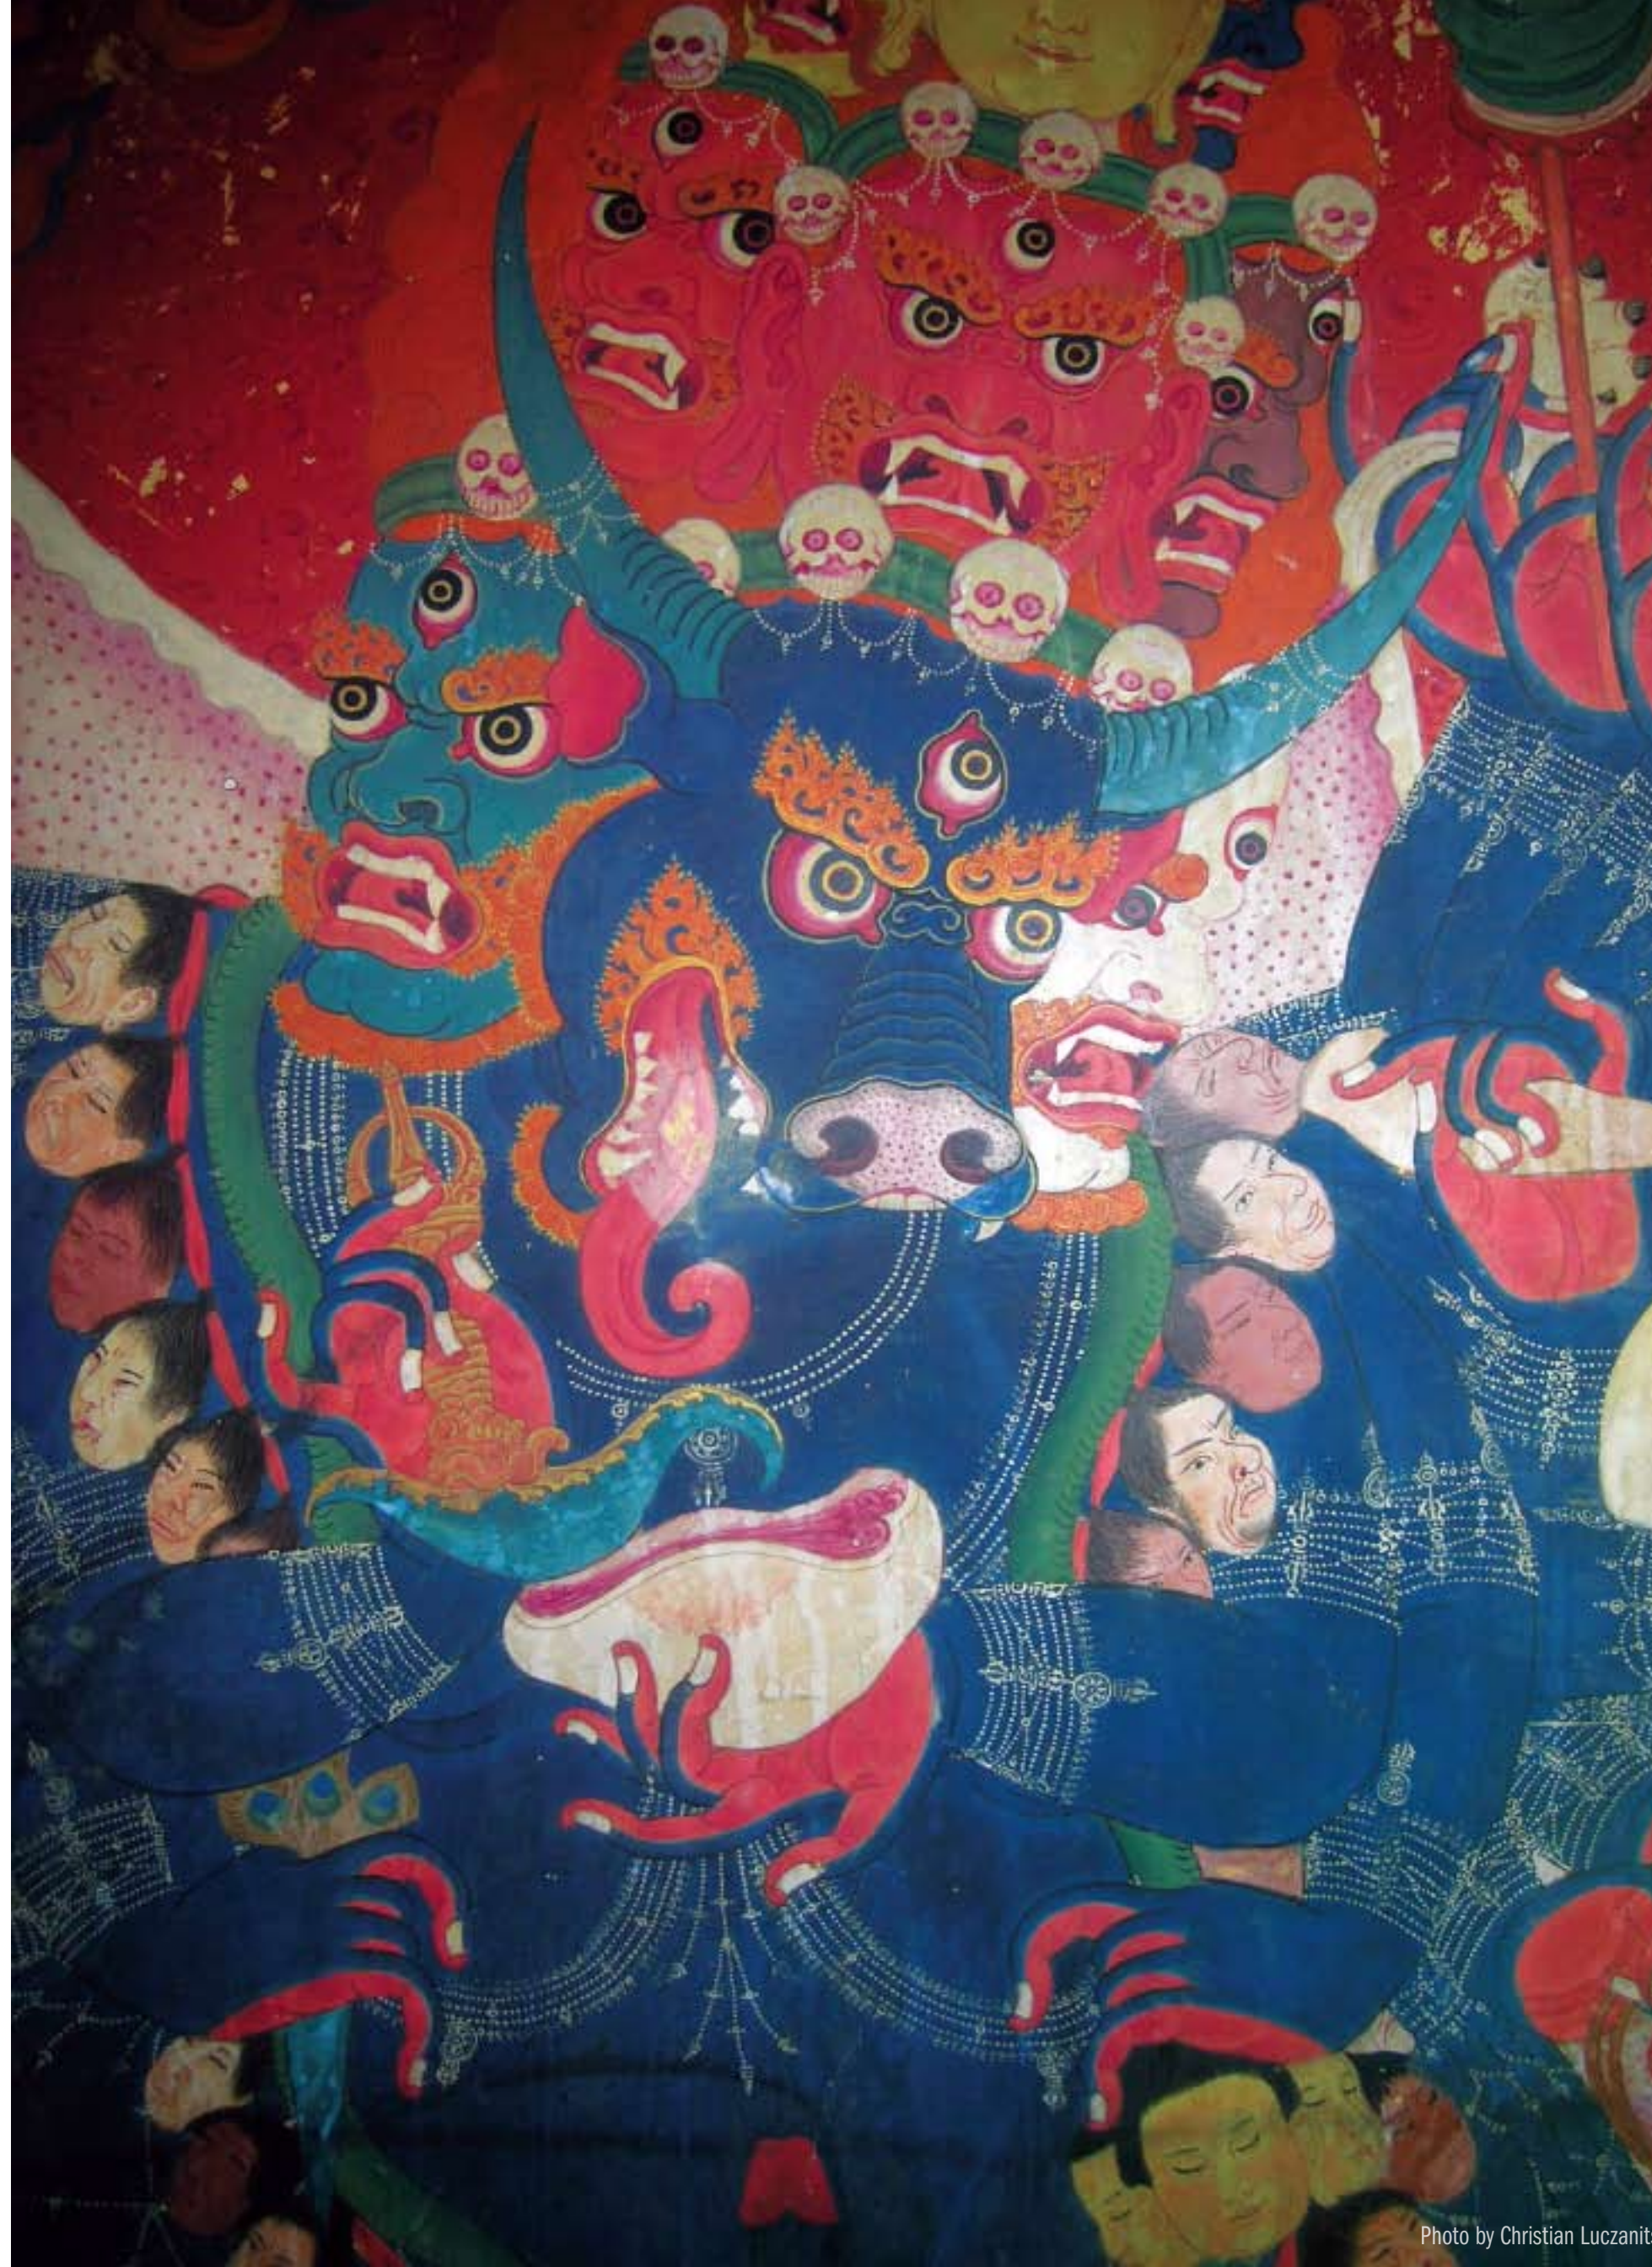

Tibet

New Perspectives from the Tibet Site Seminar

An interdisciplinary conference cosponsored by the Henry Luce
Foundation, Princeton University
Center for the Study of Religion,
Tang Center for East Asian Art, Department of Religion, and Buddhist Studies Workshop

March 7–9 2008

101 McCormick Hall
Princeton University

Keynote lecture by

Deborah Klimburg-Salter
University of Vienna

Papers by 2007 Tibet Site Seminar participants

Brid Arthur
Ohio State University

Stephanie Bogin
Courtauld Institute

Yashaswini Chandra
School of Oriental and African Studies

Wen-shing Chou
University of California–Berkeley

Damchö Diana Finnegan
University of Wisconsin–Madison

Maggie Hui
Chinese University of Hong Kong

Nancy Lin
University of California–Berkeley

Ariana P. Maki
Ohio State University

Sarah Richardson
University of Toronto

Leigh Miller Sangster
Emory University

Uranchimeg Tsultem
University of California–Berkeley

Ben Wood
University of Toronto

Responses by

Janet Gyatso
Harvard Divinity School

Marylin Rhie
Smith College

Gene Smith
Tibetan Buddhist Resource Center

The conference is free and open to the public, but advance registration is required: www.princeton.edu/~tibetsem/program-conference.htm