

The Program in Environmental Studies is pleased to announce an exciting new course this spring:

Farm to Fork:

The State of America's Food System Today

This seminar will be instructed by Professor Deborah Popper and offered on Tuesdays from 1.30 - 4.20. It will feature a variety of speakers, field trips, and readings that reflect the current transition food makes from field or pasture to plate. Applications available and due to 127

Guyot or ljohnson@princeton.edu on November 22, 2006 at 5 pm.