Voz Latina: Symposium on Latinos in America Princeton University: October 11, 2008

CALL FOR PAPERS

Princeton University Graduate School's Office of Academic Affairs and Diversity in conjunction with the Latino Graduate Student Association (LGSA) solicits submissions for a one-day symposium showcasing graduate work on a broad range of subjects that pertain to issues facing the Latino community.

Princeton University is proud to host the symposium, the first of its kind, during Latino Heritage Month. The symposium will provide a scholarly forum to highlight important developments and achievements, and address challenges facing the Latinos in America. The program of events will feature a keynote speaker, seminars, graduate student presentations, and a panel of Princeton Latino alumni.

We welcome submissions from all disciplines so long as they address Latinos in America.

Topics may include, but are not limited to:

- Latinos and Education (bilingualism, child development, and higher education)
- Latinos and Politics (voting patterns, community organizing, etc.)
- Health Issues facing the Latino Community
- Achievements in Latino Literature, Music, and Art
- Immigration from Latin America (court decisions, policy reform, migration patterns, assimilation, etc.)
- Socio-political Movements in U.S. History affecting Latinos
- Urban Planning and Development in the Latino Community
- Latinos and the Media

We request that those interested in presenting their work submit a brief proposal of no more than 300 words and a brief bio to the conference conveners, Ivan Ortiz iortiz@princeton.edu and Monica Trujillo mtrujill@princeton.edu by Monday, September 15, 2008.

Please include your name, institution, email address, and proposal title in a word document attachment along with any audio-visual needs. Presentations should take approximately 15 minutes.

All presenters must register for the conference. To register, click here:
