

Contents

- 1 Summary and Policy Options 1
 - Principal Findings 2
 - Female Telecommunications Jobs 4
 - Policy Issues and Options 8
- 2 Labor, Management, and Unions 21
 - The Changing Fortunes of Unionism in the United States 22
 - The Costs and Benefits of Unions 29
 - Employee Involvement Programs in Union and Nonunion Settings 33
 - Do U.S. Workers Need More Voice? 35
- 3 Bunts, Singles, and Hitting for a Home Run 21
 - Pressure on the Workers 38
 - Union and Company Pressures Converge 42
 - The Job Design Team: Process 46
 - The Job Design Team's Vision: The Service Consultant 49
 - Summary: Changing Customer Contact Jobs, Changing Competitive Strategy 50
- 4 Interim Measures of Success 53
 - Measures of Success in Operation Bunts and Singles 53
 - Benefits to the Company 53
 - Benefits to the Workers and Their Unions 55
 - The Treatment Timing Project 56
 - Progress in Job Design 57
 - The Phoenix Prototype-the Center for Customer Service 58
 - Related Activities 59
 - Sustainability and Growth 60
- 5 Possible Implications of the CWA-IBEW-US WEST Initiative 63
 - Growing Competition in Telecommunications 63
 - Possible Implications for Telecommunications Companies 64

BellSouth	64
AT&T	65
NYNEX	67
Bell Atlantic	69
A High-Skill Path for the Service Sector?	71

APPENDIX

A List of Acronyms and Glossary of Terms	75
--	----

INDEX	77
--------------	-----------