

Contents

Chapter	Page
EXECUTIVE SUMMARY.....	3
I INTRODUCTION.....	7
Objectives and Procedures.....	8
II. PRIORITIES FOR TECHNOLOGY ASSESSMENT.....	11
Priority Selection.....	11
Fabricated Foods.....	13
Food Sanitation in Distribution.....	13
Retortable Pouch.....	14
Electronic Checkout.....	15
Technologies To Reduce Food Loss.....	16
Electronic Food Shopping.....	16
Returnable and Recyclable Containers.....	17
Technologies Needing More Research.....	18
III. SOCIOECONOMIC FACTORS.....	21
Scenarios for the Future.....	21
Energy and Other Raw Materials.....	23
Pollution,	24
Demand for Food.....	24
Supply of Food.....	25
Food Safety and Nutrition.....	25
Regulations.....	26
Changing Lifestyles.....	27
Industry Structure.....	28
Other Institutions.....	28
FoodWaste.....	29
IV. PROCESSING AND PACKAGING TECHNOLOGIES FOR ASSESSMENT.....	33
Preservation.....	34
New and Improved Equipment and Processing Techniques.....	37
New and Modified Food Products.....	42
New Sources of Ingredients.....	44
Packaging.....	45
V. DISTRIBUTION TECHNOLOGIES FOR ASSESSMENT.....	51
Wholesaling.....	52
Transportation.....	53
Retailing and FoodService.....	56
Technologies Involving the Total Distribution System.....	61

Contents—continued

Chapter	Page
APPENDIXES
A. The Food Marketing System.	65
B. Procedures Followed in the Planning Assessment.	69
C. Agenda, Objectives, and Procedures for the Working Group.	78
D. References	86

LIST OF TABLES

TableNo.	Page
1. Issue Areas of Food Marketing Technologies With High Priority for Assessment.	12
2. Socioeconomic Factors Influencing New Technologies as Indicated in Questionnaire Responses	22
3. Processing and Packaging Technologies With High Priority for Assessment.	34
4. Number of Plants and Employees for Food Processing	34
5. Distribution Technologies With High Priority for Assessment	51
A-1. Establishments, Sales, and Employees for Food Marketing Firms, 1967 and 1972.	68
E1. Number of Responses to Letter by Type of Respondent.	70

LIST OF FIGURES

Figure No.	Page
A-1. Major Components of the Domestic Food System.	66
A-2. Farm Value, Marketing Bill, and Consumer Expenditures for Food, 1977.	67
A-3. Components of Bill for Marketing Farm Foods, 1976.	68