

*8th Conference for African–American Researchers in the Mathematical Sciences
Princeton University, June 18–21, 2002*

THE MONGE KANTOROVICH THEORY AND ITS APPLICATIONS

Wilfrid Gangbo
Georgia Institute of Technology
Department of Mathematics
gangbo@math.gatech.edu

We discuss recent applications of the Monge-Kantorovich theory to meteorology, kinetic theory, functional inequalities, and partial differential equations. We briefly mention its connections with the KAM theory, one of the fundamental branches of dynamical systems.