

Contents

Chapter	Page
Overview	1
1. Introduction	7
2. Summary	19
3. Electric Utilities in the 1990s: Planning for an Uncertain Future	41
4. New Technologies for Generating and Storing Electric Power.
5. Conventional Technologies for Electric Utilities in the 1990s	133
6. The Impact of Dispersed Generation Technologies on Utility System operations and Planning	161
7. Regional Differences Affecting Technology Choices for the 1990s	183
8. Conventional v. Alternative Technologies: Utility and Nonutility Decisions	219
9. The Commercial Transition for Developing Electric Technologies.	253
10. Federal Policy Options	285
Appendix A. Cost and Performance Tables	303
Index.	323