

	Page
Summary	1

Part I. Freedom of the Press in the Information Age

Chapter 1. New Technologies for Gathering News and Information	5
Newsgathering	9
Computer Databases	10
Media Satellites	11
Implications for Privacy	12
Implications for National Security	16
Chapter 2. New Technologies for Editing and Selecting News and Information	19
Electronic Publishing	19
Editorial Control and Liability	21
Global Networks and the International Press	23
Chapter 3. New Technologies for Publishing and Disseminating News and Information	27
The Convergence of the Media	27
Cable Television	30
Information Services Delivered Over Telephone Lines	32

Part 11. Scientific Communications and the First Amendment

Chapter 4. National Security and Scientific Communications	37
Science, Free Speech, and National Security	37
The Executive Branch and Classification of Documents	41
Export Controls	49
Chapter 5. The 1980s: Converging Restrictions on Scientific Communications ..	55
Contractual Restrictions on Communications	55
Restrictions on Informal Communications	56
Self-Restraint	59
National Security Directives and the Role of the National Security Agency.	60
Chapter 6. Constitutional Issues: An Overview	65
Appendix A. Acknowledgments	71