PIIRS POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS, 2005–6

The Princeton University Institute for International and Regional Studies invites applications for two postdoctoral positions. Appointments will be for the academic year 2005–6, with a possible extension for 2006–7. Candidates must have completed their Ph.D.s prior to beginning their appointments on September 1, 2005. Appointees will work with Princeton faculty on projects in the following areas:

1) Contemporary Latin America, with a specialization in inequality and development. Applicants must be fluent in Portuguese and Spanish; a Ph.D in history or social science is preferred.

2) Globalization and international networks. Significant methodological expertise is required; a Ph.D. in social science with a focus on social networks is preferred.

Candidates must submit by April 8, 2005:
1) a letter of application describing their suitability for the position(s);
2) a curriculum vitae with a list of publications; and
3) three letters of recommendation, which should be sent directly to the search committee.
