Thursday, October 6
Women of Color Luncheon
Noon–1:15 pm • Frist 243
This is an opportunity for campus women to come together, meet one another, and talk in a casual setting. Students, staff, and faculty are welcome. Lunch will be provided. Cosponsored with the Fields Center.

Thursday, October 6
Ingrid Rivera
8 pm • Café Vivian, Frist
Back by popular demand, Ingrid Rivera is a queer, Black Boricua, spoken-word performance artist, community organizer, and activist for racial and economic justice. Come see her moving and inspiring performance. Sponsored by Acción Puertorriqueña, Fields Center, Frist Campus Center, LGBT Center, and Pride Alliance.

Friday, October 7
Meditation
Noon–1 pm • Women’s Center Resource Room, Frist 242
This interactive workshop will begin with simple stretches to prepare the body for meditation. Then you will learn and practice meditation techniques that will help you regain your natural state of balance and equanimity, and reduce stress. Jill Gutowski will facilitate the sessions. She is a certified yoga instructor and co-director of Four Winds Yoga in Pennington. Gutowski also has a background as a psychotherapist with a focus in additions. This workshop meets every Friday. Street clothes are appropriate. Cosponsored with Frist Campus Center.

Monday, October 17
Where Have All the Lesbians Gone?
Noon • Frist 243
While we currently see an increase in lesbian images and representation in the popular media, we also see fewer campus women who identify with the l-word. Join us for an engaging discussion on whether/how these phenomena might be related. Lunch will be provided. Cosponsored with the LGBT Center.

Thursday, October 13
Native Americans: History, Struggle, and the Law
6 pm • Frist 243
Join us for a dinner discussion at which Tanya Gonela Frichner, attorney and president of the American Indian Law Alliance, will discuss her work and share a historical perspective that sheds new light on old beliefs about Native Americans and the beginnings of democracy in this country. Cosponsored with the Fields Center and International Center.

Thursday, October 13
Film: Rabbit-Proof Fence
9 pm • Frist 100 Level
In 1931, an Australian law mandated that all “half-caste”—half-Caucasian, half-Aboriginal—children were to be forcibly removed from their families, and sent to settlement boarding schools to receive training and education. This is the story of 14-year-old Molly Craig and two other girls who escape from their settlement across Australia to reunite with their families. Their only guide is a rabbit-proof fence, a mile-long wire mesh fence that stretches across Australia to keep rabbits out of farmlands. Cosponsored with the Fields Center.

Friday, October 14
Meditation
Noon–1 pm • Women’s Center Resource Room, Frist 242
This interactive workshop will begin with simple stretches to prepare the body for meditation. Then you will learn and practice meditation techniques that will help you regain your natural state of balance and equanimity, and reduce stress. Jill Gutowski will facilitate the sessions. She is a certified yoga instructor and co-director of Four Winds Yoga in Pennington. Gutowski also has a background as a psychotherapist with a focus in additions. This workshop meets every Friday. Street clothes are appropriate. Cosponsored with Frist Campus Center.

Wednesday, October 26
Intersex Awareness Day
Noon • First 243
Do you know what it means to be intersex? Do you know what challenges intersex persons face in society and in the LGBT community? Do you know how to be an ally to an intersex person? Come to this casual and informative lunch discussion to find out. Lunch will be provided. Cosponsored with University Health Services and the LGBT Center.

Friday, October 28
Meditation
Noon–1 pm • Women’s Center Resource Room, Frist 242
This interactive workshop will begin with simple stretches to prepare the body for meditation. Then you will learn and practice meditation techniques that will help you regain your natural state of balance and equanimity, and reduce stress. Jill Gutowski will facilitate the sessions. She is a certified yoga instructor and co-director of Four Winds Yoga in Pennington. Gutowski also has a background as a psychotherapist with a focus in additions. This workshop meets every Friday. Street clothes are appropriate. Cosponsored with Frist Campus Center.