Finding Shadowing Opportunities
In terms of locating shadowing opportunities, HPA has a list of local physicians in the Princeton area who are open to having students shadow them. If you're going home for break, you might also want to check out your peers' practicing medicine. A shadowing experience also allows you to build a relationship with a of yourself, and what in particular interests you about his/her background, position, or experience. If the doctor can't accommodate you for shadowing, you might see if he/she would just be willing to share information that you think will benefit pre students, alumni, and campus collaborators.
