What's Up Wilson?

Council sponsoring Clothing Swap

It's springtime (finally)! What does spring bring besides Princeton Preview, warm weather, and the end of the year? Why, spring cleaning, of course!

As you banish your coats and sweatshirts to the back of your closet, take a moment to sort through them. Something you're done wearing? Something you've outgrown? Or maybe as you're venturing into your closet, you've found a CD or book you own, but don't need anymore.

If that's the case, take your trash

As you banish your coats and sweatshirts to the back of your closet, take a moment to sort through them. Something you're done wearing? Something you've outgrown? Or maybe as you're venturing into your closet, you've found a CD or book you own, but don't need anymore.

If that's the case, take your trash and make it someone else's treasure by donating it to the Wilson Clothing Swap!

Drop off your unwanted goods in the boxes stationed outside of your RCA's room or in Wilcox and then come to the study break on April 8th (with Mexican food!) to peruse the various goods that have been collected.

All items will be on sale for a dollar. Unsold items and proceeds will go the Rescue Mission of Trenton. Donate and take part in this wonderful cause!

If you have questions, contact Chenyu Zheng (czheng@), Civic Engagement Chair.

Master Browning to present last Fellows Talk

Marguerite Browning, Master of Wilson College and Associate Professor of Linguistics in the Council of the Humanities, will be presenting her last Fellows Talk on April 6 at 6 pm in the Wilcox Private Dining Room.

The talk is titled "So Long, and Thanks for All the Fish" (for anyone who missed it, that's a Douglas Adams/Hitchhiker reference). Master Browning will discuss the history of Wilson College and the effect it has had on her tenure here.

Master Browning will be leaving Princeton to join Harvey Mudd College next fall.

Space is limited, so RSVP through WASS (wass.princeton.edu) and select an appointment on the "Wilson College Scheduling" calendar.

Council planning luau for next month

The results are in, and thanks to all of you who voted. This year's big spring event, to be hosted in conjunction with the Butler College Council, is a luau.

The event is tentatively planned for Friday, May 8.

Now, we'd like to ask for your help once again.

Do you have some sort of talent related to our theme, and would you be willing to volunteer your time? We're looking for entertainers of all sorts.

Also, what are your ideas? We do happen to have a budget, but let us know what you'd like to see at the luau, and we'll do our best.

To contact us, please use the Suggestions page on our website: www.princeton.edu/~wcouncil/suggestions.html.

A few announcements...

Art show, fire drill, Book Circle, gocrosscampus (GXC)

Submit your work for the Wilson College Art Show by April 9 in the Wilson College Office. Please include the title, artist, and medium. The show will be held in J-Street from April 16-18, with a reception at 5:30 on April 17.

In case you forgot: the University will be holding two fire drills, on Monday, April 13 (that's the Monday after this newsletter comes out) and Friday, April 24. You should be prepared to evacuate your room at any time between 10 am and 4 pm. Remember to take your key with you. If you forget, you may end up waiting quite a long time.

The Wilson College Book Circle will be meeting on Monday, April 13 at 7 pm to discuss Jonathan Safran Foer's ('99) Extremely Close and Incredibly Loud.

On Wednesday, April 15, from 7-9 pm, the Book Circle will be sponsoring a reading by John Logan, of James Thurber's The 13 Clocks. It will be held at Master Browning's House at 115 Prospect Ave. If you would like to attend, go to wass.princeton.edu and select an appointment on the "Wilson College Scheduling" calendar.

Help Wilson win on gocrosscampus! Gocrosscampus (GXC) is an online Risk-type game, and the competitors are the residential colleges (the game also includes the Grad College). Currently, Forbes is in first, with Wilson in third. Join us online at <http://pickteams.com/#gocrosscampus:game/princeton/>.
